

Pan American Silver

Growth, returns and discipline

Investor day

Pan American Silver's (PAAS's) 2026 investor day reinforced a strategy centred on self-funded organic growth, disciplined capital allocation and enhanced shareholder returns. The main operational focus was on progressing a pipeline of higher-value growth options, including La Colorada Skarn, Jacobina and the Timmins Camp Project, while strong cash generation should support ongoing investment and shareholder returns.

Year end	Revenue ($m)	EBITDA ($m)	EPS ($)	DPS ($)	Yield (%)	EV/EBITDA (x)

Investor day: Disciplined growth and capital returns

At its 1 June 2026 investor day, management focused on asset quality, active portfolio optimisation and disciplined capital allocation. The company highlighted its multi-decade track record of operational delivery, well-timed acquisitions and the execution of more than US$1.0bn in non-core asset divestments, helping to self-fund organic growth projects. Across the portfolio, key growth updates spanned process plant optimisation at Jacobina, a de-risked development route at La Colorada Skarn and district-wide integration at Timmins. Management also emphasised the recently introduced shareholder returns framework, which targets distributions of 35–40% of annual attributable free cash flow through a mix of dividends and opportunistic share buybacks.

Timmins: Rediscovered regional growth potential

PAAS is advancing a phased regional development strategy to increase throughput and extend mine life at its Timmins operations in Ontario. The Timmins Camp Project aims to integrate satellite deposits, including Vogel, Samson and Gold River, into the existing Bell Creek processing plant, where current throughput of c 4,400tpd compares with design capacity of c 5,600tpd. The board has approved a US$146m Phase 1 investment covering the 625m Bell Creek shaft deepening, a 814m drift to access Vogel and a 1.3km exploration drift to access Samson. Initial FY26 spending is included in unchanged Timmins project capital guidance of US$40–43m. Recent exploration supports this infrastructure-led strategy, confirming down-dip continuity at Bell Creek and returning strong Vogel intercepts, including 19.9m at 8.11g/t Au and 10.5m at 8.82g/t Au.

Valuation: Unchanged at US$65.0/share

Our DCF-based valuation remains unchanged at US$65.0/share, reflecting a generally supportive precious metals price environment, high-margin silver exposure through Juanicipio, positive operating momentum and PAAS's strong balance sheet. On our estimates, the shares trade on 12.5x FY26e P/E, below the post-COVID 12-month forward average multiple of c 23x. Beyond this, the expanding organic growth pipeline, including Timmins, provides additional upside potential, while the enhanced shareholder returns framework and planned buybacks should further support per-share returns.
